By Brenda J. Buote Globe Correspondent April 26, 2016

The YMCA on April 21 celebrated the opening of the newly expanded Andover/North Andover facility at 165 Haverhill St. in Andover. More than 100 guests attended the ceremony, which marked the official opening after about two years of work. The $23 million project doubled the size of the building and added new pools, fitness studios, an active learning center for youth and teens, and a space for the Merrimack Valley YMCA's health-care partner, Lawrence General Hospital, to provide physical therapy and other community-based health resources.
